SCOUT EXPO PICTORIAL EDITION

Just a Little bit of WORK
then a whole lot of FUN!

 Volunteer Today!

SATURDAY, MAY 9

8 am.....Team Leader Breakfast
9 am.....Volunteer Check-In Begins
10 am -1pm.....Litter Collection
1 pm.....BBQ with Live Entertainment and Raffle Prizes

Join new friends in the cool mountain breezes under the shade of trees to help remove litter and beautify the extensive trail systems that can be found in the Mt. Charleston area.

This project is recommended for volunteer groups of all ages, with a minimum of five volunteers and at least one group leader over the age of 18. However, if you are an individual and not part of an organized group, you are still welcome to participate.

Please volunteer today! This is a great opportunity to bring your family, friends and volunteer group to help preserve the natural beauty of the Spring Mountains.

Officer:

Lt Col Brown

Cell: 686-6140

EVENT: Potential Eagle Scout, Cody Odgers, BSA Troop 95, briefed our Squadron on a Spring Mountain Clean Up project that he was organizing as one of the requirements for earning Eagle rank in BSA. The Cadets voted to accept Cody's invitation to participate as a unit in this conservation/environmental improvement event. The project is scheduled on Saturday, 9 May, at Mount Charleston. >>>

Our group will all be assigned to a site for clean up via Email, based on the number of volunteers in our group. This information will be forwarded to all who sign up to participate. Please review the Email that will also be forwarded to you this day for more information.

LOCATION: The specified site on Mount Charleston yet to be assigned by the BLM. Check in time at the assigned site is 9:30 Saturday morning. The clean up is from 10:00 to 13:00, after which we will go to the Middle Kyle Canyon area for a BBQ, entertainment, and a raffle from 13:30 to 15:30. All family members are invited and encouraged to participate in this project. Since transportation to and from the activity for all volunteers will have to be worked out, the need for Adult drivers is anticipated. Please register your participation as soon as practical with Lt Col Brown by Email or Telephone (702) 438-6003, with the following information:

1. Names and contact phone number or Email of all volunteers traveling with you, including family members and guests.
2. Number of additional seats available or needed to transport volunteers.

The uniform for participants is civilian work clothes. Hats, gloves, and long sleeve shirts are recommended for sun and safety considerations. This is a free event, although contributions to drivers for gas may be appreciated. A permission form is not needed if your parent is participating in the project.

Parent's signature constitutes permission to participate and authorization for emergency medical care, if required, and parent cannot be contacted for approval.

Dear groups:

Here is the information concerning my BSA Eagle project and the Spring Mountain Clean Up which will be held on Saturday May 9, 2009 at Mount Charleston. Volunteer groups will be assigned a site for clean up based on the number of participants that the group will have. Site assignments will be done by Jan Scarborough from The Idea Factory and this info will be emailed to the site leader for disbursement to the group.

Volunteer will be able to check in at their assigned site starting at 9:30. At check in they will complete needed paperwork and receive an armband/raffle ticket (armbands/raffle tickets are for the BBQ which follows). A Welcome/safety talk will be given by the site leader and materials handed out to the volunteers. The clean up is from 10:00 to 1:00. At 1:00 the volunteers will stop cleaning and get ready to return to the Middle Kyle Canyon area for a BBQ/Entertainment and raffle from 1:30 to 3:30. This is free for all participants with armbands.

Attached is the link for the event flyer (the correct times are outline above) and the website for a map with directions to Kyle Canyon is below.

<http://www.fs.fed.us/r4/htnf/districts/smnra/smnra-central-recreation-map.shtml>

Again, each group site leader will receive the site assignment with driving instructions to that site. The group leader can then forward this information on to their groups.

If you have any questions, please contact me. Thank you for your time and assistance in making this a great event

Regards,

Cody Odgers BSA Troop 95

NEVADA --The tents were set up, the perimeter defined and patrols assigned as members of two Nevada Wing squadrons began carrying their safety mission for the Las Vegas Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Under Capt. David Henderson's direction as incident commander, cadets and senior members from the Jim Bridger Middle School Cadet Squadron -- which Henderson commands -- and Nellis Composite Squadron helped out at the annual Scout Expo from April 24-26 at Las Vegas' Sunset Park.

Cadets patrolled the park throughout the event and provided help where needed. Henderson sent the cadet patrols, connected by radio, to various parts of the park to assist in checking campsites for intrusion, keep unauthorized traffic out of an assigned handicapped lot and assure that Scouts stay away from a public dog park.

For the members, one highlight occurred when they were able to reunite two sets of frantic parents with their lost children. When the cadets received the alert, they fanned out over the park to find the missing children -- a challenging task amid more than 1,700 Scout participants and many more members of the public.

When the children were found safe and sound, the happy parents praised the CAP cadets for their quick action
