

Parachute Unit Trains to Rescue Plane Crash Injured

Reno Evening Gazette • June 16 1942

Dr. Harold E. Lohlein lands after a parachute jump as he and an assistant, Mrs. Marlonne Merhar, first aid specialist, start training for what may be the nation's first first aid parachute unit. Their work is designed to provide quick medical attention to persons injured in plane crashes in isolated Nevada districts.